DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the snubber ring 32 and heat shield 34 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4,9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takashima et al. '753.

Regarding claims 1 Takashima et al. discloses in figure 2 a vibration isolator for mounting between a pair of support members (inherent—one of which is shown at 9), a core element 2 or 21, a housing assembly 1 (11,12), an elastomeric spring 3, a travel restrictor, as broadly claimed, at 8, an elastomeric bumper 15 adapted to engage support member 9. Note heat shield element 17.

Regarding claims 2-4, as can be clearly seen from the drawings, these requirements are met.

Regarding claim 9 see the crimp at 8a.

Regarding claims 10-11, as broadly claimed these requirements are met.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takashima et al. in view of Kato '168.

Regarding claim 5 although Takashima et al. lacks a showing of the nozzle plate assembly the reference to Kato clearly teaches a known plate assembly that could be substituted for the arrangement shown at 6,7 for the expected benefit of changing the damping requirements to meet specific vibration-isolation design criteria.

Regarding claims 6, these requirements are met.

8. Claims 7,8,12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takashima et al. in view of Yokoi et al.

Regarding claim 7 it is notoriously well known in the art to nickel, or chrome, plate metal elements to help limit the effects of corrosion (the examiner has done this with his 1978 Merc bumpers...).

Yokoi et al. Teaches a different reason and uses a zinc coating, as shown in figure 2 and as described on lines 43-53 of col. 1.

One having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious at the time the invention was made to have provided the restrictor plate of Takashima et al. with such a claimed metal plating for one of the reasons above.

9. Claims 15,16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takashima et al. in view of Yokoi as applied to claim 14 above, and further in view of Kato.

Regarding claims 15,16 see the explanation above regarding claims 5,6.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Please review the prior art cited.
